THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION. By Dr. Rudolph Gneist, Professor of Law in the University of Berlin. Translated by Philip A. Ashworth, of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution....He discusses such vital questions as, Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the whole spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar but no bookworm, and who has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen.....At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."—Times.

Explanation of References to the Parliamentary Papers, and Stationery Office Publications.

The figures and numerals placed after the words "Parl. Paper" refer to the Session, to the Number at the foot of each Paper, and to the price at which it can be obtained at Messrs. Eyre & Spottiswoode's, East Harding Street, Fetter Lane, E.C.: thus, in "1892, (98), Price ½d." 1892 refers to the Session, and (98) to the number at the foot of the paper. Papers presented by Command are distinguished thus, [C. 6606]. The House of Lords Papers are distinguished by the letters H. L.: thus, 1892 (H. L. 150).

The price following the words "St. O. P." is the price at which the publication in question can be obtained from Messrs. Eyre & Spottiswoode.

ARBITRATION.

1. — Appointment by Court—Functus Arbitrator.] Held, that unless the case was one where an appointed arbitrator refused to act or was incapable of acting, which was not shewn in the present case, there was no jurisdiction to make an order. Arbitration Act, 1889, s. 5 (b). In re WILSON & SON AND THE EASTERN COUNTIES NAVIGATION AND TRANSPORT CO. - Div. Ct. [1892] 1 Q. B. 61

2. — Appointment by Court—Notice.] One of the parties to an agreement to submit differences to a single arbitrator refused to concur in an appointment even after being served with a written notice "to concur in the appointment of a sole arbitrator in the matter":—Held, that the notice being sufficient, the Court was bound on application to appoint an arbitrator. As a general rule, where the conditions exist under which s. 5 of the Arbitration Act, 1889, is applicable, the Court has no discretion to refuse to appoint an arbitrator, the word "may" in the section being equivalent to "must." In re EYRE AND THE CORPORATION OF LEICESTER. [C. A. [1892] 1 Q. B. 136

3. — Commission to examine Witnesses.] There is no power under Order XXXVII., r. 5, to direct the issue of a commission for the examination of witnesses in a matter referred to arbitration under an agreement, unless an action is also pending in reference to the same dispute. In re SHAW & RONALDSON [Div. Ct. [1892] 1 Q. B. 91

4. — Costs—Taxation of Costs of Award.] Under s. 2 of the Arbitration Act, 1889, the amount of the costs must be stated in the award, otherwise the costs (including the arbitrator's fees, &c.) are liable to taxation in the ordinary course. In re PREBBLE AND ROBINSON - Div. Ct. [1892] 2 Q. B. 602

5. — Receiver—Staying Proceedings.] Partnership contract with clause for submission of disputes to arbitration—Dissolution—Cross-motions for a receiver, and to stay all proceedings pending arbitration:—Held, that although the application for a receiver could not be granted as of right, the Court had a discretion to appoint one notwithstanding the arbitration clause. Reference to chambers to appoint receiver and manager, and further proceedings stayed: Arbitration Act, 1889, s. 4. PINI v. RONCORONI - Stirling, J. [1892] W. N. 22; [[1892] 1 Ch. 633

7. — Stating Case—Building Society.] The power given to the Court by the Arbitration Act, 1889, s. 19, to order an arbitrator to state in the form of a special case for the opinion of the Court, any question of law arising in the course of the reference, applies to arbitrations under the Building Societies Act, 1874. TABERNACLE PERMANENT BUILDING SOCIETY v. KNIGHT - - C. A. [1891] 2 Q. B. 63; [affirmed by H. L. (E.) [1892] W. N. 98; [[1892] A. C. 298

No appeal lies from the decision of the Div. Ct. on such a special case, the jurisdiction of the High Court under s. 19 of the Act being consultative. Except so far as there may be power under s. 20 of the Act to impose terms as to costs on making an order for the statement of a special case, the Court has no power to make an order as to the costs of a special case under s. 19. In re KNIGHT AND TABERNACLE PERMANENT BUILDING SOCIETY - C. A. [1892] W. N. 139; [[1892] 2 Q. B. 613

8. — "Submission"—Staying Proceedings.] "Submission" in s. 27 of the Arbitration Act, 1889, means a "written agreement" to submit differences to arbitration, but not necessarily an agreement signed by both parties. Hence, where a policy of insurance provided for a submission of differences to arbitration as a condition precedent to taking legal proceedings, an action on the policy was stayed, although the policy had not been signed by

2. — Deposit of securities by broker—"Negotiable securities."] Clients left bonds transferable by delivery with their broker. The broker pledged the bonds with others belonging to himself and other clients to secure an advance. The broker became insolvent, and the bank sold the bonds to repay the advance:—Held, by H. L., that the bank was not liable, as the bonds were negotiable instruments and there was nothing to shew the bank, as there had been in Earl of Sheffield v. London Joint Stock Bank (13 App. Cas. 333), that the broker was not dealing with his own securities. 1. — After-acquired property—Salary or income.] In order that s. 53, sub-s. 2, of the Bankruptcy Act, 1883, may apply, the bankrupt must be in actual receipt of the income or salary in question. Therefore, where a bankrupt after a receiving order had been made against him agreed that his employer should deduct the greater part of his salary in satisfaction of debts which the employer had bought up:—Held, that, as to the deducted portion, the bankrupt was not in receipt of it, and that the agreement as to deductions was valid, Per Lord Esher, M.R.: The Court ought not to cut down too closely a bankrupt's means of living. In re SHINE. Ex parte SHINE [C. 8. — Untrue statement of consideration—Term for defeasance of security.] An untrue statement of the consideration is not a deviation from the form in the Schedule to the Act of 1882; and therefore does not render the bill wholly void under s. 9, but only in respect of the personal chattels comprised therein under s. 8. A collateral agreement that the bill of sale shall not be made available till certain other securities were exhausted is not a term for the "defeazance" of the security; and the non-insertion of such agreement does not make the bill void under s. 9, as not being in accordance with the form in the schedule. 2. — Suit relating to land in Samoa.] Held, by the J. C. on appeal from the Court of the High Commissioner of the Western Pacific, in a suit for the recovery of land in Samoa, that the measure of damages was the value of the produce which the lands were capable of yielding at the time they were taken possession of, after deducting the expenses of management. However wilful and long-continued the trespass may have been, there is no law which authorizes the disallowance of such expenses or the infliction of a penalty on the defendants beyond the loss sustained by the plaintiff. FRAUDS, STATUTE OF.
1. — Guarantee—Indemnity.] The recital in a will that the testator has guaranteed a firm in respect of a debt is a sufficient note or memorandum signed by the testator. In this case the C. A. held that the agreement was not a guarantee, but an agreement to indemnify against loss and did therefore require a memorandum in writing. In re HOYLE. HOYLE v. HOYLE - - [1892] W. N. 188

2. — Liability undertaken at the request of another.] If A. undertakes a liability at the request of B. and upon a promise by B. to pay to A. what he pays under the liability, B.'s promise is not within the statute. Per Chitty, J. In re BOLTON'S ESTATE. The C. A. dismissed an appeal on the ground that on the evidence it was for B.'s own debt A. had rendered himself responsible, and that the statute had therefore no application - - - [1892] W. N. 205

3. — Sufficiency of signature.] An agreement to serve for three years, in the form of a letter addressed to the defendants, was signed by the plaintiff. The defendants' name was inserted at the beginning of the letter by a duly authorized agent, but the letter not otherwise signed by them:—Held, that the defendants' name, so inserted, was a sufficient signature by them to satisfy the statute. INDUSTRIAL SOCIETY.

1. — Application of profits—"Lawful purpose"—Strike.] The application to "any lawful purpose" of the profits of an industrial society, authorized by s. 12, sub-s. 7, of the Industrial and Provident Societies Act, 1876, must be taken to mean an application to any lawful purpose ejusdem generis with the general purposes of the society:—Held, therefore, that a contribution to a strike fund was illegal. WARBURTON v. HUDDERSFIELD INDUSTRIAL SOCIETY - Div. Ct. [1892] 1 Q. B. 213; [affirm. by C. A. [1892] W. N. 86; [[1892] 1 Q. B. 317

2. — Winding-up — Jurisdiction.] The Companies (Winding-up) Act, 1890, has made no alteration in the law relating to the winding-up of societies registered under the Industrial Societies Act, 1876. The only Court which can wind up such societies is the county court of the district in which the society has its registered office. In re LONDON AND SUBURBAN BANK. North, J. [1892] W. Custody.

1. — Appointment of guardian by mother.] The provisional appointment or nomination by a mother, during the father's lifetime, under s. 3, sub-s. 2, of the Guardianship of Infants Act, 1886, of guardians of her infant child after her death, should be, in form, an appointment of guardians to act "jointly with the father." Conditions on which the Court will, after the mother's death, confirm such appointment or altogether displace the father, considered. In re G—— (AN INFANT) [Kekewich, J. [1892] 1 Ch. 292

2. — Appointment of guardian by mother—Removal—Jurisdiction.] The parents of two children were Roman Catholics. After the father's death the mother became a Protestant, and appointed as guardian a Protestant lady, who took care of the children for some time during the mother's lifetime, and brought them up as Protestants. The Court under the circumstances refused to remove the guardian appointed by the mother. Jurisdiction to remove maternal guardian considered. In re MCGRATH (INFANTS) [North, J. [1893] W. Settlement.

1. — After-acquired property — Election — Compensation.] Covenant by husband and infant wife in a marriage settlement, drawn in the ordinary form but not approved by the Court, to bring into settlement the wife's present and future property. On the marriage being dissolved, a declaration was sought that the covenant was inoperative:—Held, (1) that the covenant was inoperative, except as to property which had already fallen into possession; (2) that the wife, if she elected not to confirm the settlement in entirety, must compensate the persons damaged by her non-confirmation, but such compensation was subject to the restraints on anticipation. HAMILTON v. HAMILTON - North, J. [1892] W. N. 10; [[1892] 1 Ch. 396

2. — Repudiation within reasonable time.] Covenant to settle after-acquired property. A husband sought, five years after he came of age, to set aside a marriage settlement which had been made when he was an infant. The settlement was for his benefit as an infant, but had not been confirmed by the Court:—Held, reversing Romer, J., that the repudiation came too late. In order to establish the invalidity of an infant's repudiation of a contract after he comes of age, it is not necessary to shew his knowledge of the facts and of his rights, as in a case of waiver, acquiescence, or election. 2. — Knowledge of agent—Construction of policy.] An illiterate person, blind of one eye, signed, at the request of an agent of an insurance company, an application for a policy on a form which stated he had no physical infirmity. The policy agreed to pay £250 for (inter alia) the loss of one eye and £500 for total blindness. 3. — Married woman—Wife and children—Joint tenancy.] In 1877, A. insured his own life, and the policy declared that the funds of the company should be liable to the payment of the sum insured to the wife and children of the assured, pursuant to the provisions of the Married Women's Property Act, 1870. A. died in 1891, leaving a widow and children:—Held, by Chitty, J., that the widow and children took as joint tenants. In re DAVIES' POLICY TRUSTS [1892] 1 Ch. 90

4. — Married woman — Death of insured through crime of wife.] The Defendants refused to pay a policy effected for the benefit of a wife, on the ground that if they paid it to the executors (the persons otherwise entitled), the executors would have to hold it in trust for the wife, and that it was against public policy, as the wife would thus benefit by her crime:—Held, (1) that the question of public policy did not arise between the Defendants and the executors, but between the executors and the cestui que trusts, i.e., the wife and her assignee, the first-named plaintiff; (2) that as between the latter, that the trust had failed, and a resulting trust in favour of the insured's estate had arisen. INTESTACY.

Partial—Rights of widow under the Intestates' Estates Act, 1890.] The Intestates' Estates Act, 1890, does not, like the Statute of Distributions (22 & 23 Car. 2, c. 10), apply to cases of partial intestacy. Therefore, a widow would not in such a case be entitled to the undisposed portion when under £500, or, if it exceeded £500, to a preferential £500, in addition to what she is entitled to under the Statute of Distributions. The phrase "testamentary expenses" in s. 6 of the first-named Act is a slip in the drafting, and means expenses of letters of administration and of administration generally. In re TWIGG. 4. — Renewal—Notice of appeal—Service—Power of justices to state a case.] A notice of appeal by case stated to quarter sessions was served on the justices' clerk, the head constable, and on several, but not all, of the justices:—Held, that the service on the clerk was in itself sufficient.—Licensing justices are "a court of summary jurisdiction" (Interpretation Act, 1889, s. 13, sub-s. 11), and appeals from them are governed by s. 31 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879. Licensing justices have therefore power to state a case. REG. v. JUSTICES OF GLAMORGANSHIRE. REG. v. JUSTICES OF PONTYPOOL [Div. Ct. [1892] W. N. 18; affirm. by C. A. [[1892] W. 6. — Renewal—Notice of opposition—Service—Time.] The words in 35 & 36 Vict. c. 94, s. 42, sub-s. 2, which require notice of opposition to a renewal to be served on the licensed person "not less than seven days before the commencement of the general annual licensing meeting," must be taken to mean the commencement of the adjourned meeting for the part of the petty sessional division in which the licensed house is situate, and not necessarily the first annual meeting in the division. Recovery of possession—Statute of limitations.] In 1805 A. granted a freehold lease to B. for lives: the last of such lives dropped in 1874. In 1807 B. granted a sub-lease to C. of part of the property for 99 years, determinable on the dropping of the same lives as in the over lease, therefore that sub-lease ran out in 1874. In 1832 the representatives of B. surrendered the 1805 lease to A., who granted a new freehold lease for lives; the last of these lives dropped in 1891. The plaintiffs claiming through A. had since 1839

(B.) HANBURY v. HANBURY. The Pres. [[1892] P. 222

9. — Maintenance—Fund subject to power of appointment.] The only property of a widow of unsound mind was a life interest in a fund over which she had a power of appointment to children or remoter issue. The income was under that specified in 53 & 54 Vict. c. 5, s. 116 (e), and insufficient for her support. Her son, the only person entitled in default of appointment, applied to raise money for her maintenance out of capital. The C. A., though unable to release the power, remitted the application to the Master, with an intimation that the order might be made without prejudice to any question which might arise if the lunatic appointed. In re HIRST [[1892] W. N. 177

10. — Maintenance of pauper lunatic.] Order for payment made ex parte under ss. 287, 294 of Lunacy Act, 1890. On this case the Court held that a temporary absence from the union "on trial" did not constitute such a breach of residence as to put an end to the status of irremoveability which the lunatic had acquired. REG. v. BRUCE - [1892] [2 Q. B. 136

11. — Master's Powers—Attachment.] Refusal by alleged lunatic to obey a master's order requiring her to attend for examination by a medical man:—Held, that a Master in Lunacy has power to issue an attachment to enforce any order he has himself power to make, but as matter of practice that it was more desirable that such matters should be dealt with by the Lords Justices sitting in open Court. 12. — Report of medical men—Right to inspect.] A doctor, after examining the alleged lunatic, made a report which the alleged lunatic claimed a right to see:—Held, that the report was in the nature of a proof of the evidence the witness was prepared to give at the hearing, and was as much privileged from inspection by the other side as the proof of any other witness's evidence. In re B— (No. 2) [LJJ. 2. — Construction of deed—Licence to work minerals.] Lord Mountjoy's Case (Godb. 17: Anderson, 307) does not decide that a licence to dig coal cannot be exclusive, and although there is a primâ facie presumption against such a licence being exclusive, the intention to exclude the grantor need not appear by express words:—Held, in this case that the licence was not exclusive. TWYEROULD v. CHAMBER COLLIERY CO. C. A. [1892] W. N. 27

4. — Interest on compensation—Minerals wrongfully taken.] Claim to add interest to damages certified in an action (1871) for minerals wrongfully taken:—Held, that, although interest at 4 per cent. might have been granted at the trial, it was too late to grant it after twenty years:—Held, also, that the action was an equitable action for an account of profits made out of a trespass, and not an action for money had or received, or one for trover or trespass de bonis asportatis, within 3 & 4 Will. 4, c. 32, s. 29, so that damages could not be given in the nature of interest. 4. — Receipt of rents after day fixed for redemption—Form of affidavit.] Where a mortgagee receives rents after default is made in payment of the principal and interest on the day fixed for redemption, but before the affidavit of such default is sworn, an order for final foreclosure will nevertheless be granted without any further account. Form of affidavit in support of an application for foreclosure absolute discussed. NATIONAL PERMANENT MUTUAL BENEFIT BUILDING SOCIETY v. RAPER - - Chitty, J. [1892] 1 Ch. 54

Priority.

1. — Misconduct.] A mortgagor under pretence of obtaining money to pay off mortgages obtained the deeds from B., one of the executors of the mortgagee, who was tenant for life under the mortgagee's will. A. sent back a parcel purporting to contain the deeds, but which, as appeared on the death of B., did not contain certain title deeds, which A. subsequently pledged to a bank, executing as regards the property in one deed a legal assignment. Stirling, J., held, that C., the surviving executor, who was also reversioner, was entitled to priority over the bank. In re INGHAM. JONES v. INGHAM - - - [1892] W. N. 172

2. — Negligence—Getting in legal estate.] A., having purchased an estate, granted two mortgages of the same—(1) to the plaintiffs by forged deeds, and (2) to the defendant by true deeds. A. absconded, and the defendant discovered the forgery, and also that the legal estate was not in A., as A. believed, but was then and at the time when A purchased, in the mortgagees of A.'s vendors. The defendant induced these mortgagees to convey the legal estate to the vendors on condition that they in turn conveyed it to the defendant:—Held, that the legal estate thus acquired gave the defendant priority over the plaintiffs. Cases considered in which the acquisition of the legal estate will give a subsequent innocent

3. — Negligence.] The plaintiff obtained a loan from A. on the security of railway stock. He afterwards directed his broker to obtain a loan from the broker's bank to pay off the first loan, and the stock was transferred by A. to the bank for a nominal consideration. The bank only lent to their customers, and believed the loan was made to the broker. The broker afterwards paid off the loan, sold the stock, and misappropriated the proceeds:—Held, that the bank was not liable. MARSHALL v. NATIONAL PROVINCIAL BANK OF ENGLAND [Kekewich, J. [1892] W. N. 34

4. — Negligence.] A husband and wife mortgaged property left them by will without disclosing a marriage settlement. The mortgagees inquired of the trustees of the will if there were any incumbrances. One trustee, who was ignorant of the settlement, replied he was not aware of any. The other, who knew of the settlement, returned an evasive answer. The mortgagees lent the money without further inquiry:—Held, that the trustees of the settlement were entitled to the property in priority to the mortgagees. In re WYATT. WHITE v. ELLIS Stirling, J., affirmed by C. A. [[1892] 1 Ch. 188

Redemption.

1. — Costs—Sufficiency of tender.] A tender to mortgagees in possession, reserving the right to tax the mortgagees' costs and to review their account:—Held, to be a good tender, so as to deprive the mortgagees of their costs in the redemption action, which ensued on their refusing to accept the tender, supposing, on inquiry, the tender was found to be sufficient in amount. GREENWOOD v. SUTCLIFFE [C. A. reversing Stirling, J. [1892] 1 Ch. 1

2. — Fetter on redemption—Policy of insurance.] As part of a loan transaction the lenders insured the life of the borrower against his father's, in a society of which they were trustees, for three times the amount of the loan, and paid the premiums till the borrower's death. By agreement, if the borrower paid the principal premiums and compound interest before the death of his father, the lenders were to assign the policy to him; if, on the other hand, he predeceased his father without having paid all such amounts, the policy was to belong wholly to the lenders, subject to their settling the debt out of the policy moneys. The borrower predeceased his father, without ever paying anything:—Held, by the H. L. (E.) (Lord Hannen, diss.), that the borrower's representatives were entitled to the policy moneys after deducting all sums due; for the transaction was a mortgage, and a clause in a mortgage of a policy that on the happening of a certain event the whole of the proceeds of the policy shall belong to the mortgagee, is void as a restriction on redemption. PARTNERSHIP.

1A. — Accounts—Death of partner before actual taking or signing of account.] A partner died ten days after the termination of the partnership year 1890–1, and before the account for that year was taken or signed. Romer, J., held on the construction of the articles the rights of the parties were governed by an account to be taken for that year, and not by the signed accounts for 1889–90. HUNTER v. DOWLING - [1892] W. N. 194

1. — Dissolution—Joint creditor — Bankruptcy of all partners.] After dissolution one partner brought a partnership action, and a receiver and manager was appointed. F., a judgment creditor of the firm, obtained on Ap. 4 an order for the receiver to pay him his debt and costs. On Ap. 5 all the partners were adjudicated bankrupt, but there was no joint adjudication against the firm. In drawing up the order the registrar dated the same May 16, to let in an affidavit of the latter

2. — Dissolution — Receiver — Arbitration clause.] The mere fact of dissolution of a partnership does not give one partner an absolute right, as against his co-partners, to have a receiver appointed of the partnership business; nor, on the other hand, is the jurisdiction of the Court to appoint a receiver ousted by an arbitration clause.—Receiver appointed and other proceedings stayed. PINI v. RONCORONI - Stirling, J. [1892] W. N. 23; [[1892] 1 Ch. 633

3. — Option of purchase.] Articles of partnership gave A., one of the partners, option of purchase at termination of the term by effluxion of time. The term having expired the business was continued as a partnership at will:—Held, by Stirling, J., that on the dissolution of the partnership the provisions of the original articles applied and that A. was entitled to purchase. 4. — Quasi-partnership — Loan — Interest varying with profits—Bankruptcy.] A person lent a trader money at a fixed rate of interest, with a proviso that, if the trader could not pay the agreed rate out of his profits, the lender should make him an allowance:—Held, by the Div. Ct. that the loan was in effect an advance at a rate of interest varying with the profits, and, consequently, on the bankruptcy of the trader the lender's claim must be postponed to those of the other creditors.—53 & 54 Vict. c. 39, s. 3. Amendment of specification.] Before the issue of a writ in an infringement action the comptroller gave leave to amend a specification on certain conditions. Threats of Legal Proceedings.

1. — General circular—Due diligence.] A printed notice sent out on defendant's boxes to the effect that his patent rights were being infringed and warning persons against such infringement:—Held, that the plaintiffs were "persons aggrieved," and the circular was not a mere general warning, but a "threat" within s. 32 of the Patents Act, 1883. Held, also, that the infringement action was not prosecuted with due diligence. Validity.

1. — Provisional specification, sufficiency of.] In order that a patent may be valid, the provisional specification must describe the true nature of the invention, and the invention must be the same as that claimed in the complete specification. The law on this point is not altered by the Patents Act, 1883:—Held in this case that the provisional specification did not comply with the rule. NUTTALL v. HARGREAVES C. PRACTICE—ATTACHMENT.

1. — The remedy against the property or person of a debtor prohibited by s. 9 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1883, is in respect of a debt, i.e., for the enforcement of the payment of a debt.

The remedy by committal or attachment under the Debtors Act, 1869, is for punishment for an offence. There is therefore jurisdiction to attach a person against whom a receiving order has been made. In re SMITH. HANDS v. ANDREWS - Kekewich, J. [1892] [W. N. 173

2. — A motion for a writ of attachment against an executrix who had not complied with a citation to bring in a probate for revocation dismissed with costs, (1) the affidavits not having been served with the notice of motion (Order LII., r. 4), and (2) the memorandum required by Order XLI., r. 5, had not been indorsed on the back of the citation. EVANS v. EVANS (No. 2) [1892] W. N. 174

3. — Notice.] An order on A., a trustee deft. in an administration action (who had not entered appearance), to attend before an examiner was made without notice to A., but after filing the summons under Order LXVII., r. 4, and was personally served on A. A. failed to attend, and a further order was made on him, the notice of motion being filed under Order LXVII., r. 4, and personally served. A. was attached and sent to prison under a writ moved for without personal service of the notice of motion, but after filing the notice under the above rule. The C. Jurisdiction — Transfer of actions — County Court.] Under s. 65 of the County Courts Act, 1888, a Judge in Chambers has jurisdiction to send actions of contract under £100 for trial in the county court "in which the action might have been commenced," whether by leave or as of right, or "in any court convenient thereto"—that is, convenient to the parties. PRACTICE—COSTS.

1. — Appeal for costs.] In a Queen's Bench action against A., a trustee, for refusing to give up certain deeds he was condemned in costs. On the sale of the trust estate Kekewich, J., held that A. was entitled to retain these costs out of the purchase-money. The C. A. reversed this decision. In such a case an appeal lies, for the question is not one of costs within Order LXV., r. 1, but of charges and expenses. In re BEDDOE. DOWNES v. COTTAM [[1892] W. N. 181

2. — County Court Scale—£50 recovered.] Action on contract for £50 in the High Court. Judgment for £50 exactly:—Held, that the costs must be taxed on the county court scale; the express words of Order LXV., r. 12, applying that scale where a "sum not exceeding £50" is recovered, prevailing over the inference from the words "but less than £50" in s. 116 County Courts Act, 1888. MILLINGTON v. HARWOOD - C. A. [1892] W. N. 86; [[1892] 2 Q. B. 166

3. — *Crown side of Q. B. LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL v. CHURCHWARDENS, &c., OF WEST HAM (No. 2) [C. A. [1892] 2 Q. B. 173

4. — Discretion of judge to refuse.] In this case the Court, on giving judgment for the plaintiff in default of a defence, declined to give the plaintiff his costs:—Held, on appeal by leave, that the judge had a discretion to refuse costs, which discretion the Court of Appeal would not interfere with, Order LXV., r. 1, which gives the Court a discretion as to costs applying to cases coming under Order XXVII., r. 11. one of the persons named as executor, and substituted another name. The Court allowed the nomination of executors to stand, but directed the witness's name should be restored. IN THE GOODS OF GREENWOOD - Jeune, J. [[1892] P. 7

2. — Codicil admitted to probate where will not forthcoming.] Where testator executed a codicil which was described as "a codicil to my will executed some years ago," and no trace of a will could be found, probate of the codicil was granted. IN THE GOODS OF CLEMENTS - - - [1892] P. 254

3 — Codicil—Mistake in date of reference.] A testatrix executed a will in 1887, and another in 1889 by which she revoked all previous wills, and in 1891 a codicil which by mistake was described as a codicil to the will of 1887. Jeune, J., granted probate of the codicil, together with the will of 1889, with the reference to the will of 1887 omitted. IN THE GOODS OF GORDON - [1892] P. 228

4. — Costs.] Where the party opposing a will has given notice that he insists on the will being proved in solemn form and on cross-examining the witnesses, but does not seek to call in the probate, he cannot be condemned in costs. 8. — Extrinsic evidence admitted to identify executor.] As the testator in this case had applied the terms nephew and niece to legitimate and illegitimate relatives indiscriminately, extrinsic evidence was admitted to identify which of two nephews (both named G. A., one legitimate and the other illegitimate) the testator intended to appoint as his executor under the designation "my nephew G. A." On such evidence a grant was made to the illegitimate nephew. IN THE GOODS OF ASHTON - - Jeune, J. [1892] P. 83

9. — Grant of torn will together with copy.] After a testator's death and while one of the executors was making a copy of the will, one of the testator's sons snatched the will and tore it in pieces. The executor collected the pieces and gummed them together, but some of them were missing. Jeune, J., granted probate of the incomplete will, together with the copy, which the executor had subsequently completed. IN THE GOODS OF LEIGH [Jeune, J. [1892] P. 82

10. — Incorporation.] A testatrix by a will executed in 1873 bequeathed a moiety of a fund, over which she had a power of appointment, to P. In 1881 she made another will revoking all former wills, but containing a recital apparently referring to the 1873 bequest:—Held, on the facts, that there was no incorporation by reference. PATON v. ORMEROD [[1892] P. 247

11. — Interlineations.] By an unattested interlineation £1000 was given to each of the executors; in the body of the will £10,000 was given to A., one of the executors; a codicil contained a recital that £11,000 had been given to A.:—Held, that this reference shewed that the interlineation had been made previously to the codicil, and was, therefore, incorporated by it. IN THE GOODS OF HEATH [[1892] P. 253

12. — Omission of words of revocation included in will without testatrix's knowledge.] After the execution of her will by which she left her whole property to her illegitimate son, a testatrix wrote out on a printed form of will a bequest of certain furniture to her sister, and duly executed same. The form commenced with a clause revoking all previous wills, but the testatrix did not fill up the blanks in this clause, which was not read over to her (as the rest of the form was) at the time of execution, and of which there was no evidence she had ever heard. Probate was granted of the paper, omitting the revocation clause, as a codicil to the original will. IN THE GOODS OF MOORE (No. 2) [[1892] P. 378

13. — Married woman—Will—Protection order—Desertion.] A married woman, who had separated from her husband by mutual consent, made a will on the strength of a protection order. This order had been obtained (on the husband's return) by the suppression of material facts and without giving notice to the husband. The husband did not know of the order until after the wife's death:—Held, that the protection order must be set aside, and the will pronounced against—"Separation by consent" and "desertion" considered. MAHONEY v. M'CARTHY - - Jeune, J. [[1892] P. 21

14. — Will proved abroad—French law.] The will of a British subject domiciled abroad at the time of his death had been proved in the French Courts and deposited with a notary, who by the law of France was forbidden to allow it to be removed from his custody. RESTRAINT OF TRADE.

Covenants in Restraint of Trade.

1. — Where the covenant is general, i.e. without qualification, it is bad, as being unreasonable and contrary to public policy. Where the covenant is partial, that is qualified either as to time or space, then the question arises whether it is reasonable or not. Whether the covenant is unreasonable depends on whether the restraint is or is not greater than can possibly be required for the protection of the covenantee. Where the covenant is limited as to time, the burden lies on the covenantor of shewing that the restraint is unreasonable. BADISCHE ANILIN UND SODA FABRIK v. SCHOTT SEGNER & Co. Chitty, J. [1892] W. N. 133; [[1892] 3 Ch. 447

2. — Covenant not to be concerned in selling malt liquors or aerated waters within a certain district—Covenant severable.] A., a traveller, employed by B., a brewer, agreed not to be concerned in selling malt liquors or aerated waters within a certain district for two years after the determination of his employment. B. never dealt in aerated waters, or required A. to obtain orders for them:—Held by C. A., reversing Stirling, J., that A. must be restrained from selling malt liquors wholesale or retail, but not from selling aerated waters. ROGERS v. MADDOCKS - [1892] 3 Ch. 346

3. — Covenant not to exercise any business without consent of employer.] An employer cannot make his consent a condition precedent to liberty to enter upon other employment of any sort. Therefore, such a covenant as the above, if coupled with a proviso that it is not to be withheld except on engaging in a rival business, though reasonable in respect of distance and time, is void. SETTLED LAND.

Settled Estates Act.

Infant—Trust to accumulate.] Trust to accumulate rents of real estate during minority of son followed by a trust for son absolutely on attaining twenty-four:—Held, that the estate was a "settled estate," and the Court could sanction a sale of it. Conveyancing Act, 1881, s. 41. In re SPARROW'S SETTLED ESTATE - - North, J. [1892] W. N. 26; [[1892] 1 Ch. 412

1. — Alterations in mansion-house with a view to letting.] Section 13 of the Act of 1890 is to be construed strictly. An application to apply capital moneys in repaying tenant for life sums expended, and in paying further sums for a new roof, alterations consequent upon dry rot, re-arrangement of drainage, &c., refused because: (1.) s. 13 (ii.) must be confined to cases where an actual or immediate letting is contemplated; (2.) the alterations proposed did not amount to a re-building within s. 13 (iv.); (3.) the sums actually expended exceeded one-half of the "annual rental." Applications to apply under the general jurisdiction of the Court capital moneys for the preservation or salvage of property will be refused. In re DE TEISSIER'S SETTLED ESTATES. In re DE TEISSIER'S TRUSTS. [1892] W. N. 73; [[1892] 2 Ch. 318

3. — Moneys under separate deed.] Declaration by Court that a will and deed, with limitations almost identical but separately stated, constituted one settlement. Moneys under the deed applied to improve lands held under the will. In re BYNG'S SETTLED ESTATES [North, J. [1892] W. N. 72; [1892] 2 Ch. 219

4. — Payment of past instalments of rent-charges.] In this case Stirling, J., refused repayment to the tenant for life of sums paid by him in respect of past instalments. In re DALISON'S SETTLED ESTATES [[1892] W. N. 140; [1892] 3 Ch. 522

5. — Purchase or redemption of rent charges.] A tenant for life borrowed, between 1881 and 1885, under the Land Improvement Act, 1864, money for "improvements," and the repayment was secured by rent charges. Between 1883 and 1885 some of these rent charges were bought up by the trustee under s. 60 of the Act of 1864. In 1888 the portion of the estate on which the improvements were effected was sold, and the rent charges shifted to the unsold portions:—Stirling, J., held that the instalments of rent charges falling due after the passing of the Settled Land Act, 1887, and after the question had been raised by the tenant for life, should be provided for out of capital moneys. In re HOWARD'S SETTLED ESTATES - [1892] W. Tenant for Life.

1. — Constructive notice.] The doctrine of constructive notice ought not to be applied so as to invalidate the titles of persons dealing bonâ fide with tenants for life when exercising their powers under the Acts. MOGRIDGE v. CLAPP - - - C. A. [1892] 3 Ch. 382

a building lease as absolute owner without any reference to the Settled Land Acts. There were no trustees for the purposes of the Acts, and consequently no notices were given as required by s. 45 of the Act of 1882:—Held, that notwithstanding the absence of notices, the lessee had a good selling title, being protected by sub-s. 3 of s. 45. MOGRIDGE v. CLAPP Kekewich, J. [1892] W. N. 50; [affirm. by C. A. [1892] W. N. 106; [[1892] 3 Ch. 382

3. — Leasing powers—"Best rent."] Held, that a tenant for life could not grant a fresh lease, as a building lease, for twenty-nine years at the old rent, nor an ordinary lease for twenty-one years at the same rent, in consideration of sums already voluntarily expended on the property by the tenant; such rent not being the "best rent obtainable," as required by s. 7, sub-s. 2, of the Act of 1882 nor the consideration one contemplated by s. 8, sub-s. 1. In re CHAWNER'S SETTLED ESTATES - - Chitty, J. [[1892] W. N. 59; [1892] 2 Ch. 192

4. — Tenant for life in embarrassed circumstances—Appeal.] The C. A., reversing Stirling, J., sanctioned the sale of the principal mansion-house in a case where the tenant for life was insolvent, the sale being opposed by one of the trustees, and the next remainderman being in a position to keep up the estate. Per C. A.: It is contrary to public policy that an estate of this kind should be left for perhaps fifty years to come in the hands of a mortgagee whose only interest would be to make money out of it. A respondent trustee may be heard in support of an appeal. In re MARQUIS OF AILESBURY'S SETTLED ESTATES [C. A. [1892] 1 Ch. 506; affirm. by H. L. (E.) 6. — Tenant for life and remainderman—Rents and royalties.] A testator had agreed to grant mining leases. Dead rents had been paid and approaches made, but the leased coal was not actually reached until after the testator's death:—Held, notwithstanding that the tenant for life was impeachable for waste, that the dead rents payable and the royalties to be paid belonged to him as income. In re KEMEYS-TYNTE. under a settlement, had power to charge jointures and portions to a specified amount; on his marriage in 1867 he exercised this power. B., the first tenant for life, by his will dated 1877 devised certain realty, and bequeathed his residuary personalty on the trusts of the settlement, but not so as to increase or multiply any charges or powers of charging. In 1886 A. became tenant for life, and in 1892 he and his eldest son disentailed the estate:—Held, on the construction of B.'s will, that the property passing thereunder was not subject to the charges created by A. in 1867, and that the trustees were bound to transfer the residuary personalty to A. and his son; a release of the power to be executed. In re BERNERS. BERNERS v. CALVERT - North, J. [1892] W. N. 171

2. — Forfeiture on alienation—Validity of clause—Bankruptcy of settlor.] B. was a joint appointor of trust funds, with a life estate in default of appointment, whereby, inter alia, the trust funds were appointed, as to part to pay certain of his debts and as to another part to himself for life with a gift over on alienation. B. became bankrupt:—Held, that this was not a settlement by a bankrupt of his own property, and therefore the gift over was valid, and the trustee in bankruptcy was not entitled to the life estate, but the trust to pay debts was a revocable trust which must be considered as revoked by the bankruptcy, and therefore the trustee was entitled to such funds as were in the hands of the settlement trustees for that purpose. Semble, liability of trustees for overpayments. In re ASHBY. Ex parte WREFORD. THE "EDEN" [Div. Ct. [1892] P. 67

4. — Appeal from Divisional Court.] Where the Div. Ct. alters the judgment of the county court an appeal lies as of right to the C. A. For s. 10 of the County Courts Act, 1875, impliedly repealed so much of s. 45 of the Judicature Act, 1873, as is inconsistent with it. And, though s. 188 of the County Courts Act, 1888, repeals the whole of the Act of 1875, this repeal does not revive any enactment not in force on Jan. 1, 1889. THE "DART" - - C. A. [1892] W. 3. — Apportionment—Agreement to accept percentage of Salvage.] Sect. 182 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, does not prevent seamen from entering into an equitable arrangement for the apportionment of salvage; therefore, though a vessel be not within the exception of s. 18 of the Act of 1862 (as to salvage ships), an agreement under s. 13 of the Act of 1883 (46 & 47 Vict. c. 41) to accept a percentage of the salvage earned is, if in the opinion of the Court equitable, binding.

Where certain officers are paid by a share of fishing profits, costs of repairs necessitated by the salvage operations cannot be deducted from the salvage percentage payable to them. —Semble, the above sections of the Acts of 1854 and 1862 do not apply to a master. 4. — Attempt to tow—Derelict.] (1.) A tug endeavoured to tow a disabled barque into port but failed, leaving the ship in a more dangerous position than before, but in such a position that a second set of salvors were able to save her:—Held, tug was entitled to payment for work done, but not for salvage. (2.) The second set of salvors claimed salvage on the higher scale as for a derelict ship:—Held, that, as the crew were on board when these last salvage services commenced, the ship was not derelict. THE "LEPANTO" [[1892] P. 122

5. — Diminution of award.] Held, in this case, that such want of skill in manœuvring the salving vessel had been proved as went to diminish the award of salvage, and the award must be reduced by one-half. An apportionment of actual damage refused. THE "DWINA." [The Pres. [1892] P. 58

2. — Construction—Rejection of surplusage.] Under s. 65 of the County Courts Act, 1888, a judge in chambers has power to transfer certain actions for trial in the county court "in which the action might have been commenced or in any court convenient thereto":—Held, that the word "thereto" was meaningless and should be rejected, and the phrase read as "convenient to the parties." BURKILL v. THOMAS Div. Ct. [1892] 1 Q. B. 99; affirm. [by C. A. [1892] 1 Q. B. 312

3. — Exercise of statutory powers.] Where the promoters of a public undertaking have authority from Parliament to interfere with private property on certain terms, any person whose property is interfered with has a right to require that the promoters shall comply with the letter of the enactment in his behalf. No Court can remodel arrangements sanctioned, or relax conditions imposed, by Act of Parliament. Meaning of "deviation" as used in statutes considered and explained. (2.) STOCK EXCHANGE.

1. — Liability of London stockbroker to country customer.] A London stockbroker, on the instruction of B., a country broker, obtained from the Bank of England a power of attorney to sell stock belonging to X. This power was executed by X., and on the instructions of B., A. sold the stock for £970, and credited B. with the proceeds in his account. The balance to B.'s credit in this account was afterwards paid to answer bills drawn by him on A. Romer, J., held that X. was entitled to recover from A. the £970 less brokerage. 2. — Pledge of client's securities by broker—Authority—Liability of bank — "Negotiable securities."] Customers left bonds transferable by delivery with their broker. The broker pledged the bonds with others belonging to himself and other clients to secure an advance. The broker became insolvent, and the bank sold the bonds to repay the advance:—Held, by H. L., that the bank was not liable, as the bonds were negotiable instruments, and there was nothing to shew the bank, as there had been in Earl of Sheffield v. London Joint Stock Bank (13 App. Cas. 333), that the broker was not dealing with his own securities. His executors commenced foreclosure; a receiver was appointed who worked the colliery, and profits were made and paid into Court. A foreclosure decree was made, and the fund in Court transferred to the credit of this administration action, and apportioned by North, J., as follows: The amount which, with interest at 4 per cent. from testator's death to date of transfer to credit of this action, equalled the fund transferred to be deemed capital, the remainder of the fund to go to the tenants for life. In re Godden. Teague v. Fox - - [1892] W. N. 155

5. — Sale of company's undertaking.] A company sold its undertaking for a sum which, after deducting an amount equivalent to its paid-up capital, left a large surplus:—Held, that this surplus was income and not an accretion to capital. Registration.

1. — Alteration.] Per Kekewich, J.: An old mark ought to be kept registered just as it was used, in the absence of special circumstances necessitating an alteration, as, for example, where the proprietors are converted into a limited company, and would be obliged to give up the mark altogether unless they were permitted to add the word "Limited" to their names. Mere transmission of title does not render an alteration (e.g., of the initials forming part of the mark) in any way necessary. In re HENRY CLAY AND BOCK & Co. [1892] W. N. 140; [1892] 3 Ch. 549

2. — Alteration in non-essential particular.] A company had carried on business at M. and B., but were about to give up their works at B.; both M. and B. appeared upon the marks, which were old marks. EMDEN'S PRACTICE AND FORMS IN WINDING-UP COMPANIES.

A Concise and Practical Treatise upon the Law and Practice relating to the Winding-up of Companies from the commencement of the Winding-up Proceedings to Dissolution, with a Chapter on Reconstruction.

BY

MR. REGISTRAR EMDEN,

AUTHOR OF "THE LAW RELATING TO BUILDING, BUILDING LEASES, AND BUILDING CONTRACTS," "A COMPLETE COLLECTION OF PRACTICE STATUTES, ORDERS, AND RULES," "SHAREHOLDER'S LEGAL GUIDE," ETC.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The whole work is thoroughly well done. . . . . We have rarely met with a work in which so much pains have been taken not only to set forth the whole of the law and practice to which it relates, but to do so in the most lucid and concise manner. The book will be of great assistance to all who are concerned in the Winding-up of Companies, particularly to those who are comparatively new to the work. If the practitioner goes wrong with Mr. Emden's book in his hand it will be his own fault."—Law Times.

"We think the arrangement of this book is very good. Each step in winding-up proceedings is traced. . . . . The statutes are printed at length in the appendix. . . . . There is a very good time table, and also a convenient tabulated summary of the leading cases upon the liability of contributories. . . . . With regard to the treatment of the very numerous cases with which company law abounds, it is always intelligent, and the style is easy and perspicuous."—Law Journal.

"Mr. Emden is already well known as a legal author, and his book on the winding-up of companies will, we think, increase his reputation. This treatise is judiciously confined to the important branch of company law which relates to 'winding-up'; and the author is thereby enabled, within the compass of a moderate volume, to supply the practitioner with a very complete work. In arrangement, little is left to be desired; and, by variations of type and marginal references, the eye is assisted in its search for any particular subject. The appendix of forms cannot fail to be practically useful."—Solicitors' Journal.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES

ON THE

PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND.

By THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law; LL.B. London University; B.A., late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and of Leading Cases in Modern Equity; and late Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"We are glad to observe in the present edition the marks of careful revision. . . . It is a comprehensive outline of existing English Law, contained in a marvellously small compass, well arranged and so contrived, by the insertion of illustrative cases and extracts, as to be interesting, instead of repulsive, to the student. On some subjects a list of leading recent cases is added, the effect of them being shortly stated. The account of the Settled Land Acts, at pp. 145–156, may be commended as a very good piece of exposition. The index has been improved, and a word must be said as to the attractive type and convenient size of the volumes."—Solicitors' Journal.

"The success which we predicted for this book on its first appearance, only a year ago, seems to be now fully assured, for we already have before us a second edition. . . . Mr. Brett is singularly fortunate in being called upon so soon to bring out a new edition, because he has thus been afforded an opportunity of availing himself of the suggestions of his friends and the criticism of his reviewers by correcting the errors which were inevitable in a first edition, and also of incorporating the numerous Acts which have, since the publication of his first edition, been placed upon the statute-book by an exceedingly active Legislature."—Law Journal.

"The compilation has been done with care, and the new edition is up to date, and is altered to include the legislation of last session."—Law Notes.

TENEMENT HOUSES AND FLATS (The Law Relating to), for Residential or Business purposes, including the Taxation and Rating thereof. With an Appendix of Precedents of Leases' Forms, and a Digest of Cases relating to the Inhabited House Duty. By WALTER CLODE, Barrister-at-Law, of the Inner Temple, Associate of the Surveyors' Institution, Author of "The Law and Practice of Petition of Right."

"The growing habit of building monstrous houses, principally accessible only by means of lifts, has already had results conspicuous enough to justify the writing of a text-book on the legal rights and responsibilities of persons who have to do with them. . . . The whole volume appears to have been written with the same learning and judgment which characterise his former book about 'petitions of right.'"—Saturday Review.

"The great increase in recent years in the number of residential flats. . . . renders this book likely to be extremely useful."—Law Times.

"This is an interesting subject upon which Mr. Clode has written an interesting book. . . . The impulse which has been given recently to the building of flats in London and elsewhere increases the value of Mr. Clode's book, which will be found accurate and practical."—Law Journal.

"The increase in the number of residential buildings known popularly as 'flats,' makes the present time opportune for the publication of a legal work on this subject."—Builder.

STEPHEN'S

COUNTY COURT ACTS, ORDERS, AND PRACTICE.

According to the scheme of the work, the Rules are printed immediately after the respective sections of the several enactments to which they particularly relate, thereby enabling the reader to see at a glance, Section, Rules, and Notes thereon.

By HENRY STEPHEN, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law.
Editor of the Ninth Edition of "Stephen's Commentaries," and Joint Author of "The County Council Compendium;" and REGINALD ARTHUR STEPHEN, Registrar of the Lincoln County Court.

"The peculiarity of the book is the novel scheme which has been adopted, and which we think will prove most acceptable to the busy practitioner and will save him much of his valuable time. . . . . The idea is a happy one, and its undoubted labour and time saving tendency should recommend the book to solicitors . . . . in fact, everything is done to assist the practitioner."—Law Notes.

LEADING CASES IN MODERN EQUITY.

BY THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, LL.B.; London University, B.A.; late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Author of Brett's Commentaries on the Present Laws of England; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883; and Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Deserves high praise for the care and judgment evinced in its execution. Mr. Brett's index appears to be copious and complete."—Law Times.

"We have laid Mr Brett's book down with none but favourable and pleasurable feelings at the excellent manner in which he has accomplished his task. It is of the very first importance both to the student and the practitioner to have the principles of Equity collected in a handy form, and this want Mr. Brett has supplied. The notes to the cases are admirable in manner and lucid in language; and no little pains seem to have been bestowed in the arrangement of the cases themselves."—Law Magazine.

"Must prove of immense value to the profession. Mr. Brett has done all in his power to help students and practitioners by as far as possible grouping together the cases dealing with the same classes of subjects. Among the more important matters decided will be found cases relating to trusts and trustees, mortgages, partnerships, the relations between solicitors and clients, married women's property, and the religious education of children. A good index adds considerably to the usefulness of the work."—Daily Chronicle.

"The manner in which most of the cases are stated is admirable, being clear, concise, and well expressed. As it is, we have no hesitation in saying that there is no better book, or one so good, from which the student can learn the most important decisions of courts of equity during recent years."—The Jurist.

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

By DR. RUDOLPH GNEIST,

Professor of Law in the University of Berlin.

Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH,

Of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The TIMES says:—

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . . With a degree of perseverance to which all difficulties must succumb, he has for years investigated this subject. It has been the business of a long literary life. . . . The Constitutional struggles in Prussia brought into prominence many questions which had been settled, on the whole, successfully in England. . . . So minute has his examination been, so long has he been a student of English Constitutional history, so many changes has he, a careful observer, seen in his lifetime, that he speaks as an expert, and his writings have no small practical value for us. . . . He discusses such vital questions as—Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the old spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no book-worm, and has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen. . . . He recognizes the necessity of the first Reform Bill. . . . He recognizes the value of the reforms which came in its train—better trade, better finance, wiser administration, popular education, sanitary reforms. There was progress everywhere. . . . 'Only one thing had gone back—the internal cohesion of the members of the State and society, which are the vital essence of this Constitution.' . . . He fears that the custom of committing power to the leader of the majority for the time may cease; and 'then a time may recur in which the King in Council may have to undertake the actual leadership.' . . .

"It is worthy of note that a profound scholar, who has studied as closely as any living person the history of our Constitution, sees danger ahead, and that he has no belief in the efficacy of mechanical means of reform, and expects little from clever expedients for making the Parliamentary machine go somewhat more smoothly and swiftly. . . . . Though the outlook seems to him gloomy, he does not despair. 'The thousand years of English history which lie behind us justify our confidence that this nation will rise triumphant out of the struggles before it, and, like the German nation, will find in its own past the best materials for the regeneration of this political system.' . . . . To Englishmen his is, in many ways, the most instructive of histories, if only because it is well to see how our affairs look in the eyes of a foreigner who knows and admires England.

"Naturally these volumes recall Professor Dicey's work. . . . The contrast between them is great. Professor Dicey writes as a lawyer, and does not treat the subject historically. . . . Professor Gneist is at once a historian descending to minute details, a lawyer, and a political philosopher. He, too, emphasizes the truths on which Professor Dicey dwells; indeed, the latter does but reproduce Gneist's teaching on this head. But the investigation of the latter is wider and deeper. . . Equally decided is his belief that our Constitution in its best and worst days has always been an aristocratic Government, 'certainly the best aristocratic Government in the history of mankind,' and he has no confident expectation as to the happy outcome of any deviation from this. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"This book is a monument of German patience and industry. . . Dr. Gneist's book, we may say in conclusion, ought to be on the shelves of every student of our constitutional history."

ACADEMY.

"Something like a national reproach is removed by this tardy recognition of the great services which Dr. Gneist has rendered to the history of English institutions. . . . It has a special interest in being the work of a foreigner, who looks at the subject from the outside, and who throws upon it the fresh light of his comparative knowledge."

SCOTSMAN.

"There are two questions to which, especially during the past fifty years, many learned and able writers, British and foreign, have laboured to furnish an answer. What is the English Constitution? . . . . One of the most profound and exhaustive attempts ever made in this direction is undoubtedly furnished in the work before us. Professor Gneist approached his herculean task with very exceptional qualifications for its performance. . . . The heavy task of translating the book has been executed by Mr. Ashworth with taste and judgment."

LITERARY WORLD.

"Dr. Gneist's distinguished position as Professor of Law in the University of Berlin, and his world-wide fame as a writer on jurisprudence and history, give this, his latest work, an authority and a value that can hardly be over-estimated. . . . The whole of these later chapters on the Parliamentary Government of the eighteenth century are full of interest. . . . Dr. Gneist is a warm champion of a Second Chamber, which he considers absolutely essential to progress and development. . . . We must reluctantly take leave of Dr. Gneist's admirable work."

JOHN BULL.

"It is no small thing for one who is not an Englishman to have written such a searching and exhaustive history of the English Constitution as is embodied in this work. . . . It is impossible to read such a book as this without learning a vast deal which is new. . . . . The cordial thanks of all Englishmen who are interested in the constitutional history of their Fatherland are due to this painstaking and laborious writer."

BOOKSELLER.

"As a history of the Constitution, Professor Gneist's book will prove a dangerous rival to Hallam if it does not supersede it, and the work is sure to receive the weight and respect due to one of the first of living jurists and historians."

PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.

"When all is so good, a selection is difficult, but of special excellence are the accounts of the development of the House of Commons (Third Period, Vols. i. and ii.), and of the struggle against the pretensions of the Stuart Kings in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries."

LAW JOURNAL.

"The book is of great interest and value to students of constitutional history."
